Q1. Read the passage carefully.

The Curious Squirrel

Ravi noticed a squirrel visiting his balcony every morning. It would nibble on biscuit crumbs and then scurry away. One day, Ravi saw that the squirrel was limping — it had hurt its paw. He gently placed a soft cloth and a bowl of water nearby for it. Over the next week, Ravi kept an eye on the squirrel and made sure it was safe. Slowly, the squirrel's paw healed, and it began hopping around cheerfully as before. Ravi felt proud that his small act of care had helped the little creature heal.
